PROSPECTUS.
THREE months ago a company was formed in Sydney for the purpose, amongst others, of purchasing and working a Rich Quartz Vein discovered in the neighbourhood of the Lower Turon. Arrangements were at once made for dispatching competent persons to ascertain and report on the richness of the claim. These reports were sufficiently satisfactory to induce the Provisional Committee to conclude on their own responsibility the negociation then on foot with the original claimants, and the vein became duly transferred to, and is now held by, trustees on behalf of this Company, which was originally composed of a few individuals, under the impression that a limited capital would be sufficient to work the mine. A Deed of Settlement, as prepared by the Solicitors of the Company, was submitted to a general meeting of the Shareholders, adopted and signed, appointing the above-named gentlemen first Directors of the Company.
It is unnecessary to enter into detail respecting the subsequent acts of the directors. Suffice it to say that every week has added to the evidence they possessed of the amazing richness of this mine. Portions of the quartz, selected indiscriminately from the ridge, having been forwarded to Sydney and tested by practical assayers, have yielded gold to an extent which has not only startled the Directors, but which, if published, would scarcely be credited.
Independently of the facts brought under the directors' notice by their own experiments, disinterested parties have spoken of this Claim in the highest terms, and the Assistant Gold Commissioner gives his opinion of its value in the strongest language, in his original report on the subject to the Chief Gold Commissioner.
In the early part of last month, the directors were fortunate enough to secure the services of a gentleman lately arrived from Mexico, where he had been engaged for many years in similar pursuits, with whom they entered into an arrangement to proceed to the Turon, survey and report on the Quartz Vein on the Company's Claim, and the best mode of working the same. This gentleman has returned to town, and his report fully confirms previous statements. He excavated nine feet, and quarried out a block of quartz so large that it cannot, in the present state of the roads, be conveyed to Sydney, bearing indications of gold as rich as previous samples, which yielded at the rate of £1400 sterling per ton. The character of the quartz upon this claim is of the best description, being thoroughly impregnated with gold, and so equally distributed as to be perceptible to the naked eye on all sides, but when brought under the influence of a powerful lens, it is found to pervade the whole mass. From the report of this gentleman and informaton obtained at frequent interviews, the Directors have satisfied themselves the present capital of the Company is not sufficient for the proper working of this mine; and as they have been frequently applied to for shares, which they could not supply, a meeting of the Company was held at the Royal Hotel on Thursday, the 23rd instant. When it was resolved—
"To increase the capital of the Company to 40,000 shares of 20s. each, and to offer 20,000 shares to the public for sale; such offer only to remain open one month, at the expiration of which the shares unapplied for to be appropriated as the Directors may decide."
In accordance with the above resolution, the public are invited to apply for any portion of the 20,000 shares now offered for sale.
The declared objects of the Company are—
To extract gold from quartz veins,
To work alluvial soil,
To purchase gold.
Towards the first of these objects they possess the rich vein already alluded to, and have the first claim to two others adjoining, making in all one mile and a half of quartz.
The second of these objects is not engaging their attention at present.
The third object they are already acting upon, so that the capital of the Company may never be unproductive.
Application is being made to the Legislative Council for an Act to limit the liability of the shareholders.
It will be seen by the above that the Directors are quite alive to the importance of employing the capital of the Company, at the same time fully resolved to expend it judiciously and economically. Further particulars may be ascertained from any of the Directors, and parties desirous of obtaining shares are requested to make early application: they will be required to pay a deposit of 5s. per share as soon as the shares are allotted, and the balance whenever the calls are made.
The Deed of Settlement lies at the office of the Solicitors to the Company, where it may be inspected.
FORM OF APPLICATION FOR SHARES to be addressed to the office of Samuel Hebblewhite, Esq., Hon. Sec., next door to the Town Hall, York-street.
To the Board of Directors of the Turon Golden Ridge Quartz Crushing Company.
Gentlemen,—I request you to allot me shares of £1 each in the above Company, and I hereby agree to accept the said shares, or any less number you may allot to me, and to pay the first instalment thereon, viz., five shillings per share, at the time specified in your letter of allotment.

[ADVERTISEMENT.]
To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.
GENTLEMEN,—Noticing in your issue of Saturday, the 18th instant, in the rates of wages in Sydney for Cabinetmakers, as given to you by the principal employers, and as being those actually paid, a gross misrepresentation as regards their wages, and being fully convinced of the evil tendency of such hypocritical kindness to our British fellow-tradesmen, as well as to the public of this colony, at a moment when there was not time to refute it, prior to its being sent to the United Kingdom to be blazoned forth, the Operative Cabinetmakers immediately called a meeting of their body, and on a careful enquiry to ascertain how near this statement came to the truth, found it fully as far from it as they thought it was, they therefore deem it their duty to publish a statement of their enquiry. They find that in only one of the five principal shops in this city is there a man receiving the lowest stated sum.

At Mr. Hill's, 1 at	3	5
Ditto 1 at	3	0
At Mr. Lenehan's, 1 at	3	0
Ditto 4 at	2	2
At Mr. Hunt's, 1 at	3	0
Ditto 1 at	1	0
At Mr. Sly's, 3 at	2	2
Ditto 1 at	1	0
At Mr. Woolley's, 1 at	3	3

So much for the principal employers of labour paying from 10s. 6d. to 12s. per day!
With regard to the first-rate hands, who are said to be now earning from £4 4s. to £5 10s. at piece-work, they are not to be found in the principal shops; but if individuals working at their homes (making good common sheets of drawers at £2, which before the rise in prices were only £1 3s. each) can earn by working 16 or 17 hours a day the lowest stated sum (which very few do), we do not envy them such freedom, nor would we take such earnings as a fair criterion of what a man could make on piece-work. We would not wish by any means to damp the spirit of the British artisan intending to emigrate to these shores, but we would not wish to see them deluded by the mis-statements of the avaricious employers.

"Sworn to no Master, of no Sect am I."

A COLONIAL MINT.

THAT "a prophet hath no honour in his own country" is an old and apparently a true saying; but we see no reason why such should be the case. We cannot, therefore, although we have not long since touched on the same, allow an exemplification of its affecting ourselves to pass unnoticed. In a leading article, headed "A MINT FOR VICTORIA," which appeared lately in the Melbourne Argus, we find the following passage:—

The writer of the Times money article (than whom, it is notorious, there is scarcely a more thoroughly practical and enlightened commercial man in Britain, perhaps in the world) thus notices the question in a few words:—

It appears that the Australian gold discoveries have already led to the anomaly of shipments of sovereigns being made to the colony from this country. As much as £250,000 has already been transmitted, partly as returns for the gold which has arrived here, and partly for prospective purchases of the metal on advantageous terms. Under these circumstances, it would seem that the propriety of establishing a mint either at Sydney or Port Phillip should at once be taken into consideration. Anything more wasteful, looking at the risk and loss of interest it involves, than the shipment of the metal backwards and forwards in the shape of rough gold from one side, and coined pieces from the other, can hardly be imagined.

So the Times, the oracle of the money market, wrote on the 28th January. The whole subject is summed up in that one brief paragraph. The clear, concise, and his strong sense divests it of all superfluous verbiage, and presents it in the most luminous aspect.

Now, if our friend of the Argus will take the trouble to refer to our paper of the 25th of August, 1851, written five months before the Times' article from which he quotes, he will find the exact reasoning which the London journal uses urged by us in almost the precise words which were afterwards used by the Times, when we originated the idea of a Colonial Mint. We therefore consider ourselves fully justified in appropriating to our own use the praise which our contemporary lavishes so liberally on the London oracle, and, although we may think it somewhat overstrained, we feel bound to thank him for the compliment he unwittingly pays to our financial sagacity.

We have reason to believe that our article suggested to the London merchants connected with these colonies the idea of an Australian Mint, which was immediately adopted by the Times, and on their representations favourably considered by the Secretary of State. We may remark that "our" claim for a mint was put forward before Port Phillip was known to be a gold-producing district.

DEATH FROM EXPOSURE.—On Saturday night last, a person named Green, who has lately been employed by one of the Messrs. West of Macquarie Plains as a thrasher, and his wife, lost their way in returning homewards from Bathurst. After wandering about the plains for severals hours they came in contact with some fences, from which they were unable to extricate themselves, and at length lay down on the ground, wearied with fatigue, at a point not more than three-quarters of a mile distant from their own home. When day broke the following morning the woman was in a state of speechless torpor, and lived only a few hours after removal to her residence. An inquiry into the circumstance was instituted on Tuesday last, when Dr. Machattie held a post mortem examination. A few scratches and slight bruises were observed about the face, which had been caused by falling into a creek during the darkness of the night. The result of the enquiry was, that the unfortunate woman's death was caused by exposure to the atmosphere.—Bathurst Free Press.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

SUPREME COURT.—MONDAY.

NISI PRIUS SITTINGS.

MUNSIE v. BU-BY.

This was an action of debt, brought to recover a sum of £335 9s., for rent, board and lodging, and work performed for defendant. Pleas, the general issue and payment.

Counsel for plaintiff Mr. Darvall; attorney Mr. Joseph Chambers. Counsel for defendant Mr. Fisher; attorney Mr. Carr.

There had, it appeared, been a good deal of disputing between these parties. Plaintiff held of defendant a farm called Ravenscroft, in the Paterson district. Although the farm was let to plaintiff, the defendant continued to reside there, being furnished by the former with board and attendance. He also retained the garden and a portion of the land. This occupation for five years and a half was made the basis for the charge for rent. There were also charges for fencing, scrubbing, &c. The case for plaintiff rested chiefly upon the evidence of his son, According to his testimony, there had been verbal agreements, fixing the allowances and payments to be made for the board, lodging, and work; and the work was properly performed. A memorandum in defendant's handwriting, which was not shewn to have ever been agreed to by plaintiff, afforded partial confirmation to this evidence; although it appeared from this that defendant maintained a right to reserve to himself, his lodgings, and the garden, or without paying rent, or subjecting himself to any charge beyond the charge for board. On the part of the defendant evidence was given of admissions by plaintiff that the board and lodging had been paid for. It was alleged also that the work of clearing land had not been done properly, and there was a question whether by the term scrubbing was meant a simple clearing of the surface or a removal of all the small roots.

The learned Judge, on the delivery of this verdict, requested the Jury to inform him with what items of plaintiff's particulars they had made up this sum. Plaintiff's counsel submitted that as the Jury had not been directed to find specially upon any facts in the case, and as they had named a gross amount of damages, in fulfilment of their express duty to find a general verdict, it was not open to the Court to ask this information. In support of this position he quoted a case from 3 Dowling and Lowndes. Ultimately his Honor decided to obtain the information alluded to from the Jury in the shape of a sealed memorandum, and before opening it to consult with his brother Judges as to whether his demand was warranted or not.

GORMAN v. FULLER.

This was an action of trover for three horses. Plea, not guilty.

Counsel for plaintiff, Mr. Foster; attorney, Mr. Little; counsel for defendant, Mr. Darvall, attorneys, Messrs. R. J. and G. Want.

The three horses had been left with defendant to graze, at the rate of 6d. each per week, and a receipt was given on them. Upon demand being made they were not forthcoming, and defendant said they were lost in the bush. The value of the horses was stated to be £40.

Mr. DARVALL contended that defendant being in the position of a bailee for hire was not liable under the present form of action. Any neglect of which defendant might have been guilty in allowing the horses to stray could not amount to a conversion. But even assuming that this objection did not hold good, there was no negligence whatever.

It was proved that certain horses, resembling those of plaintiff, and said to be the same, were put in a well-grassed, well watered, and well-fenced paddock, from whence they were supposed to have strayed, through the fences being left down by persons in the habit of driving teams through by defendant's permission. Counter evidence was also given as to the value of the horses, which were said to be worth only £6 or £7 each.

Mr. FOSTER contended in reply that proof of a demand and refusal amounted also to a proof of conversion, unless there was a distinct act, notwithstanding that ordinary care had been exercised to prevent them from straying. There was no such proof in the present instance.

His HONOR left the Jury to decide, whether or not there was any evidence of loss to counteract that of conversion.

Jury found for the plaintiff, damages £30.

MITCHELL v. MORRIS.

This was an action by a mate of a vessel (the brig Phantom) against the owner, for wages and breach of contract. The declaration having set out a contract between the parties at Melbourne, whereby the plaintiff agreed to serve as chief officer for three months at £12 per month, went on to allege that the defendant had in breach of this contract discharged plaintiff, and refused to pay him his wages on the arrival of the vessel in Sydney. Defendant had pleaded that he did not promise, and that he did not discharge the plaintiff as alleged.

Counsel for plaintiff Mr. Meymott, attorney Mr. Martin; counsel for defendant Mr. Darvall, attorneys Messrs. Nichols and Williams.

The former commander of the vessel, Captain Papps, proved the engagement with plaintiff at Melbourne, according to the terms of the contract set out in the declaration. The breach was shewn by an admission of defendant to this witness of having dismissed the plaintiff. There was no evidence as to what had actually led to this dismissal. Three weeks only of the prescribed time had elapsed when the contract was thus broken. Captain Papps also stated that defendant, when arrested at the suit of the plaintiff, offered him (Papps) a bribe of £10 to bring the matter to a satisfactory conclusion. How, it did not appear; but the inference sought to be drawn was that Papps was to allege incompetency on the part of the plaintiff.

The only defence set up was an argument, that from the nature of the case, and the peculiar situation of the maritime interests at the present time, it must be assumed that plaintiff would not have been dismissed in the summary manner alluded to.

The Jury found for the plaintiff, damages, £36.

JURORS FOR WEDNESDAY.—The only special jury case set down for trial on Wednesday has been struck out, so that the jurors summoned for that day need not attend.

SYDNEY ADJOURNED QUARTER SESSIONS.

MONDAY.

The Crown Prosecutor conducted the following cases on behalf of the Crown.

Henry Burns was indicted for stealing some wearing apparel, the property of Charles Spaight Haigh, draper, Pitt-street. The Jury found the prisoner guilty, and he was sentenced to be kept to hard labour on the roads or other public works of the colony for twelve calendar months.

Patrick Joyce was indicted for stealing a bag, the property of one Catherine Cash. The Jury found the prisoner not guilty, and he was discharged.

William Davidson was indicted for stealing six hats, the property of Robert Patrick Armstrong. The Jury found the prisoner guilty, and he was sentenced to be imprisoned and kept to hard labour in Sydney Gaol 18 calendar months. (An old offender—two previous convictions on record against him.)

James Wilson was indicted for stealing and receiving two horses, the property of James Lamb. The prisoner pleaded guilty to the receiving, and threw himself upon the mercy of the court. Mr. Johnson, who appeared for the defence (assisted by Mr. Nichols) addressed the court in mitigation of punishment, dwelling upon the youth of the prisoner, who was little more than 16, and pointing out, from the circumstances of the case, the apparent probability of his having been the dupe of some designing person. The prisoner was sentenced to be imprisoned in Sydney gaol for 6 calendar months, seven days each in the first and last month to be in solitary confinement.

William Scott was indicted for stealing a saddle and bridle, the property of Charles York. The prisoner pleaded guilty, and was again indicted, together with Elizabeth Alger, for stealing a saddle and saddle cloth, the property of Edward Hutchinson Pollard. Scott pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to be kept to hard labour on the roads, or other public works of the colony, for three years. The jury found the prisoner Alger guilty, and she was sentenced to be imprisoned and kept to hard labour in Sydney gaol 12 calendar months. (There were several previous convictions on record against Scott.)

John Hanley was indicted for robbing one Mary Ann Evans of a purse, a handkerchief, and six pounds ten shillings in money. The Jury after some consideration returned a verdict of not guilty, and the prisoner was discharged.

Edward O'Flaherty was indicted for stealing some prayer books out of the Centenary Chapel, in York-street. The prisoner pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to be imprisoned and kept to hard labour in Sydney Goal 12 calendar months.

JUROR FINED.

The Court adjourned till this morning (Tuesday,) at 10 o'clock.

Perry official assignee.

MEETING TO-MORROW.

CITY COUNCIL.

MONDAY.

A MEETING of this body was held yesterday at 3 o'clock, in the Town Hall.

The TOWN CLERK read the minutes of the former meeting.

REPORTS.

Alderman ALLEN brought up the report of the Water Committee. He suggested that it would save a vast deal of time if the formality of moving the reception of reports in general was dispensed with. The alderman, however, after some consultation, moved that the report, be received.—Received.

HACKNEY CARRIAGE BY-LAWS.

Mr. THORNTON laid upon the table a draft bill for the amendment of the Hackney Carriage By-Laws, to the provisions of which the attention of the Council would be drawn on a future occasion.

In answer to a question from Mr. Thornton, respecting a summons recently issued by the authority of one of the officers of the Corporation against Mr. Entwisle.

The MAYOR said this was a summons issued by Mr. Stubbs against Mr. Entwistle, for employing a Chinaman in the service of Mr. Hosking, which he did not believe Mr. Stubbs had any authority to do. He would, however, inquire into the circumstances.

CLARENCE AND SUSSEX STREETS.

Mr. HOGAN moved, that this Council do now proceed to open and determine on the and Sussex-streets.—Carried.

There being only one tender (that of Mr. Nolan), it was moved by Mr. WEEKES that it be referred to the Improvement Committee. Alderman WILSHIRE expressed his opinion that in the present state of the labour market it was unwise to enter upon any work that was not absolutely necessary.

Alderman ALLEN thought that, as Mr Nolan offered no surety for the performance of the contract, it would be better to let the matter lie over till the next meeting, or at all events until the opinion of the surveyor could be ascertained.

Mr. THORNTON objected to any delay.

After some observations from Mr. SIMMONS, the matter was ordered to stand over.

WAGES OF LABOURERS.

Mr. HOGAN moved that, whereas it was deemed expedient by the mayor to advance the wages of the overseers, labourers, quarrymen, and carters, on the 10th instant, to continue the necessary improvements and works of the city, and the Mayor having retained them upon the works by a promise on behalf of the Council of an advance of their wages per day as follows: 5s. 6d. to labourers, 6s. 6d. to quarrymen, 12s. to carters, and 7s. to the two overseers, this Council do agree thereto, and order the same to be paid from the 10th instant, thenceforth weekly until further orders from this Council.

Mr. CAMPBELL objected to the item of 12s. for carters.

Alderman WILSHIRE had particularly enquired into the rate of wages now paid by large employers; and in no instance, he believed, so much as 5s. 6d., a day was given to labourers, except to those in the sugar works, the nature of which rendered it very difficult to obtain workmen at all. Moreover, the labourers employed by the Corporation were by no means the most ablebodied.

Mr. DRIVER said, many of the Corporation labourers had left their employment, and obtained now as much as 6s. to 7s. a day.

Mr. THORNTON said, labourers on the wharves were paid 9s. a day, and 3 glasses of grog a day were allowed them besides.

The MAYOR said, every enquiry had been made of the proper officers, and he believed labour could not be obtained under the proposed rates.

Mr. WEEKES thought Mr. Thornton's statements were exaggerated, and that the rates of wages he had quoted were only what were paid in special cases. It behoved the Council to be careful how they raised wages, which would effect the labour market very seriously, as the rate given by public institutions was a criterion to labourers generally. He objected to the motion in its present shape, which was offensive to the Council; the advances sought to be established having been made on the sole authority of the Mayor.

The MAYOR said the subject had been mentioned in open Council, and had been acceded to.

Mr. WEEKES said he should move an amendment, expressing that the Council, and not the Mayor, considered it expedient to raise the rate of wages.

Mr. LITTLE seconded the amendment.

After some desultory conversation, Mr. THORNTON called a tention to the fact that the Mayor had actually done what the resolution recited, and that it was ridiculous to foster a feeling of jealousy between the Council and the Mayor.

Alderman ALLEN contended that the form of the original resolution would go to make a precedent which would authorise the Mayor in future to make any advance he thought proper on his own responsibility. He doubted also whether it was wise on the part of the Council to make this rise in the rate of wages.

Mr. SIMMONS opposed the amendment and the original motion, on the ground that the standard price of labour ought not to be raised by the Council, except on the clearest ground. He moved, as a further amendment, that a committee of five members be appointed to enquire into the subject and report.

Alderman WILSHIRE seconded the amendment.

Mr. LENEHAN thought the rates proposed were considerably under the rates of wages generally paid.

After some remarks in reply from Mr. HOGAN,

The Council divided on Mr. Simmons's amendment, which was negatived by 10 to 6.

On Mr. Weekes's amendment, the Council divided; and the amendment was carried by 10 to 6.

RUIN AT THE CORNER OF KING AND YORK STREETS.

Alderman ALLEN, at the request of the Mayor, moved—Whereas Michael Golden, Surveyor of the City, duly appointed in that behalf, having found that a certain house or building situate at the corner of King and York streets, in the city of Sydney, is in a dangerous state, both to persons passing and repassing, and also to the occupiers of the buildings adjoining thereunto, and having as by law required, obtained the judgment of two Justices duly authorised in that behalf, that the said house or building ought to be taken down, from the the cause aforesaid, and all parties interested therein having failed (after due notice) to do as he or they are required by law to do, this Council do now order and direct that the said house or building be taken down by the said Surveyor, with proper assistance to be obtained in that behalf, and that in all other respects the said Surveyor do proceed according to law, as is required to be done in pursuance of the Act 14 Victoria, No. 41.

Mr. LENEHAN seconded the motion, which was carried.

WATER-PIPING.

Alderman ALLEN moved that the offer of Mr. Struth to supply 200 lengths of three-inch water-piping to the Corporation at £12 10s. per ton be accepted, in accordance with the recommendation of the Water Committee.—Carried.

HACKNEY CARRIAGE BY-LAWS.

Mr. DRIVER moved that the Bill prepared by the City Solicitor on the subject of the fares for hackney carriages, be adopted.

Alderman RYAN seconded the motion.

Alderman ALLEN, having read the clause in the proposed Bill, whereby the present hackney carriage fares are doubled, expressed his opinion that it would be better to fix a too high than a too low price, since in the former case any evil which might arise would be cured by competition.

Mr. LITTLE did not see any necessity for getting the Bill introduced at all, since a by-law could be made, and the whole expense of passing a Bill would be saved.

Some discussion arose as to how the select committee had arrived at the recommendations embodied in the draft Bill. Mr. WEEKES objected that as it was admitted that the Committee had only met once or twice, the whole business was characterised by great irregularity.

Ultimately the motion was withdrawn.

ASSESSMENT BOOKS.

Mr. SIMMONS moved that whereas the City Surveyor did, in terms of the 132nd section of the Corporation Act, 14 Victoria, No. 41, lodge with the Town Clerk a return of all buildings or tenements erected or altered in each ward of the city of Sydney, from 25th August, the date when the assessment books were also confirmed by the Council, to 31st September last, containing an assessment of the same according to their full, fair, and average annual value clear of all outgoings. And whereas notice has been given to the parties interested and no appeals against the said assessment have been entertained by the Court of Quarter Sessions; and whereas these assessments have been entered in the original assessment books of the said city: It is hereby ordered, that the said assessments be, and they hereby are confirmed by this Council, as a portion of the said assessment books.—Carried.

HAYMARKET.

Mr. LITTLE moved that the letter of the lessee of the Hay Market, on the subject of the loss sustained by him in consequence of the Weigh Bridge being out of repair, be referred to the Right Worshipful the Mayor, to investigate and report to this Council.—Carried.

POTTINGER-STREET.

Alderman RYAN moved that the City Surveyor be instructed to carry out the surface draining in Pottinger-street, estimate read to the Council on the 6th instant, and under the direction of the Improvement Committee.—Carried.

Alderman RYAN moved that the sum of £6 12s. 9d., due to G. Taylor for supplying and repairing tools, and all other sums accruing for such service, be paid, upon the certificate of the proper officer, and a warrant signed by the Chairman and two Members of the Improvement Committee.—Carried.

STANLEY-STREET.

Alderman RYAN moved that the Improvement Committee be instructed to erect a bridge across Stanley-street, &c., as prayed for by a petition from certain citizens of Cook Ward, and in accordance with the surveyor's report and estimate.—Carried.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE CITY.

Alderman RYAN moved that the letter of the City Surveyor to the Improvement Committee, with reference to certain works necessary to be carried out in the city, be taken into consideration.—Carried.

The letter having been read, the motion was withdrawn after some conversation.

SCREENING GRAVEL.

Alderman RYAN moved that the Improvement Committee be authorised to pay two shillings per ton for screening gravel for the city works instead of one shilling and sixpence as at present.—Carried.

ELIZABETH-STREET.

Alderman RYAN moved that the Improvement Committee be instructed to carry out certain works in Elizabeth-street South, prayed for by a petition from residents in that locality, in accordance with the report and estimate of the City Surveyor.

Alderman ALLEN opposed the motion on the ground of the expense not being justifiable.

Mr. WEEKES also opposed the motion, urging that the portion of street proposed to be repaired was almost entirely beyond the ordinary traffic.

The motion was carried, on the understanding that the works were not to be carried on beyond the last house in the street.

SAND HILLS.

Mr. THOMAS postponed till next meeting his motion relative to Mr. S. H. Pearce's letter on this subject.

MR. SMART'S WATER RATE.

Alderman ALLEN moved that the report of the Water Committee, dated and received by the Council on the 15th instant, recommending a reduction of the water rate on Mr. T. W. Smart's flour-mill, for the half year ending 31st December, 1851, be adopted.—Carried.

PAYMENTS.

Alderman ALLEN postponed till next meeting his resolution relative to certain payments reported by the Mayor.

MR. ROW'S PETITION.

Mr. DRIVER moved that the petition of Mr. W. J. Row, received by this Council on the 22nd instant, be referred to the Finance Committee, for their consideration and report.—Carried.

BLUE STONE METAL.

Mr. HOGAN moved that the Improvement Committee be authorised to purchase any quantity of blue stone metal on the approval of the City Surveyor, and on its being landed at the Corporation Wharf at a rate not exceeding five shillings per ton; and that the accounts for the same be paid by the usual warrant signed by any three members and countersigned by the Town Clerk.—Carried.

The Council then broke up.

POLICE OFFICE.—We have been requested to state that during the sitting of the Court of Quarter Sessions the business of the Central Police Court will commence at 9 A.M. instead of 10.

CLERGYMEN'S STIPENDS.

THE following is a copy of the petition to the Legislative Council, which was rejected on Friday, as contrary to the standing orders:—

To the Honorable the Legislative Council of New South Wales, in Council assembled.

The humble Petition of the Churchwardens of the under-mentioned parishes within the diocese of Sydney.

Respectfully sheweth

That your petitioners observe that your honorable House has recently had under its consideration the propriety of augmenting the salaries of various public officers, in consequence of the increased price of the necessaries of life, occasioned by the discovery of gold.

That your petitioners would respectfully submit that the stipends of the clergy are (under such circumstances) wholly inadequate to their proper maintenance. That whilst the incomes of the clergy are less than those of the great majority of the classes to whom your honorable House has expressed its readiness to accord relief, it is also an acknowledged fact that, of the body on whose behalf your petitioners now appeal to your honorable house, many are in positions more urgently needing an increase of income than any other class in the community. That inasmuch as, by their calling and position, the clergy are precluded from augmenting their resources by the means open to the laity, and from becoming personal applicants in a matter of this nature,

Your petitioners humbly pray that your honorable House will be pleased to take the subject matter of their petition into immediate consideration, and grant such prompt and adequate relief as the justice and urgency of the case may appear to your honorable House to demand.

Churchwardens of St. Philip's.
Churchwardens of St. James'.
Churchwardens of Christ Church, St. Lawrence.

THE UNION BANK AND THE BATHURST GOLD DEALERS.—A public meeting of the Bathurst gold buyers, and others directly or remotely interested in the sale of gold, was held at Mrs. Black's, Royal Hotel, on Monday evening last, "to take into consideration," as set forth in the advertisement convening the meeting, "the conduct of the Bathurst Branch of the Union Bank of Australia, relative to the purchase of gold, and also the propriety of establishing a private escort."—There were about thirty people present, amongst whom we perceived nearly all the gold purchasers of the town, and a few diggers or gold sellers. A number of individuals not immediately connected with either had also assembled to witness the proceedings. At first some difficulty was experienced in procuring a chairman, but upon the appearance of Mr. Parker in the room, it was moved by Mr. Samuel, and seconded by Mr. Forbes, that he take the chair. Mr. Watson objected to Mr. Parker's nomination, on the ground that he was a gold merchant, and most probably adverse to the Bank; but, after some discussion, Mr. Parker was unanimously called to the chair, and briefly opened the proceedings of the meeting; stating that the question for consideration was whether the Bank was justified in monopolising the trade in gold. The chairman's observations appe ring to lean rather against the Bank, Dr. Machattie protested against his conduct as one-sided, but was met by Mr. Samuel, who strongly supported the chairman. Dr. Machattie then left the room, on the ground of other business. Mr. Samuel then rose to move the first resolution as follows:—"That this meeting is of opinion that the system pursued by the Bathurst Branch of the Union Bank of Australia, in the purchase of gold, is unfair to other buyers, is contrary to all principle of banking and trade, and is highly injurious to its principal constituents." Mr. Samuel argued that gold in its raw state was like all other commodities, and there was no reason why the bank should deal in it more than in any other article. The conduct of the bank had the effect of shutting out all other buyers by giving a higher price for gold than they did, viz.:—66s. 6d., whilst he was convinced all the gold in Sydney could be bought for 68s 6d. And not only did the bank thus injure the trade generally, but in fact they carried on this traffic in gold with the capital of their constituents, which was thus turned against themselves most unfairly. The motion was seconded by Mr. Syer with a few observations, and upon being put to the meeting about six hands were held up in support of it. The motion was, after a pause of a few seconds, declared to be carried. Mr. Forbes then moved "that this meeting resolves, in the event of the bank continuing to pursue its present course in the purchase of gold to invite one of the Colonial Banks to establish a branch or an agency in this town." Mr. Foster briefly commented upon the policy of the bank, which he characterised as most injurious to the interests of their own constituents. The motion was seconded by Mr. Dunsford. Mr. John Walker came forward as the advocate of the Bank. He could not understand how such a movement as the present one could, with a good grace, emanate from a handful of gold-buyers. The purchase of gold by the Bank was a public benefit, since the more money the diggers obtained, the more would they spend, and the greater would be the circulation among the tradespeople and other inhabitants. He moved as an amendment, that this meeting has perfect confidence in the Bathurst Branch of the Union Bank of Australia, and resolves "that a vote of thanks be given to the Bank for their conduct in reference to the purchase of gold. "The amendment was seconded by Mr. White, who argued that the intrinsic price of gold did not fluctuate, but was in reality stationary, and that the value of gold was easily ascertainable. The competition of the Bank, therefore, was a healthy one, since it tended to diminish the violent fluctuations in price; and there was no fear whatever that the conductors of the Bank were likely to carry on their purchases at a loss. As to the charge that the Bank would monolise the trade, it could not be sustained, since if the Bank availed themselves of the sole possession of the field to reduce the price of gold, the private buyers would immediately step in and resume the trade. Mr. Walker, in reply, combated the arguments of Mr. White, contending that in reality the Bank had not raised the price, whilst it charged so enormous a rate of discount upon bills against gold. After some observations from Mr. Rotton, the amendment was put and, on a division, carried by a majority of two or three.—Mr. Samuel on behalf of the originators of the meeting, was willing to confess the 2nd resolution lost, but the object had been gained by calling public attention to the matter. Thanks were then voted to the chairman, and the meeting broke up. For fear it may be supposed that we did not notice the matter, we cannot forbear pointing out the absurd inconsistency of the meeting in carrying the first resolution, in which the bank is condemned as acting unfairly, and contrary to all principle of banking, by purchasing gold, and afterwards adopting the amendment of the second, in which perfect confidence in the bank is expressed, and a vote of thanks tendered for its conduct in reference to the purchase of gold. Abridged from the Bathurst Free Press.

INVALID INDENTURES OF APPRENTICESHIP.—Thomas Sullivan yesterday appeared before the Bench (the Mayor, with Mr. T. W. Campbell and Mr. C. H. Chambers) to answer the complaint of Mr. Dickinson, of George-street, sailor, for having unlawfully absented himself from said indented service. Mr. Little, on behalf of the defendant, submitted that inasmuch as the paper purporting to be an indenture of apprenticeship was neither "indented" nor "under seal," it was wholly invalid, and the case must be dismissed. After some argument between Mr. Little and his Worship, Mr. Chambers, on this point, the complainant said that he would not press the charge, but agree that the agreement should be cancelled, on which terms the case was dismissed.

DISEASED CATTLE.—On Friday last, Mr. Nichols, on behalf of Mr. Thomas Wall, carcase butcher, appeared before the sitting magistrates (Messrs. Chambers and T. W. Campbell) to answer an information filed by Mr. Stubbs, ought, and never will be arrived at. Therefore the sooner that an improved system is adopted the better. Sir Richard Bourke's Act should be repealed or amended in many important respects; and if the whole question is referred to a select committee of the House, empowered to take evidence, I am persuaded that one of the profoundest pieces of legislation that has ever been accomplished in this colony will be the result.

A LAYMAN.

THE GOLD REVENUE—ITS VALUE AND DIFFICULTIES.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—Since my last letter I am overjoyed to find that the control of the Gold Revenue has been given to the Government of this colony. This fact is, indeed, a subject of importance and congratulation, but not unattended with much anxiety of feeling. From a recent and very minute examination of the riches of the Turon diggings and deposits, I feel convinced that an endless source of wealth is at hand, if they are only properly and scientifically worked. This mine of wealth, which has been scratched over by inexperienced diggers, will yield an enormous income to the scientific miner, and thus bring to the coffers of the Government a revenue far beyond any present expectations. The responsibility of Government will rest chiefly in encouraging the investment of capital, and of giving a steadiness and certainty to the gold mining labour market. Before entering minutely into the system which I would most humbly suggest, I beg to present your readers with a graphic sketch of the license system: On the first day of my arrival at the Turon, whilst walking along its rich and winding banks, I was surprised to see a mounted commissioner most gallantly riding up a very steep ascent, and hallooing a runaway digger who had failed to pay his license. Simultaneously 20 to 30 men indiscriminately leave their cradles and tools and wade the stream. My curiosity naturally led me to inquire their reason for so doing. The answer was simply this: "We have no licenses, and we won't pay. What a d——d lark this is—ain't it?—see that commissioner splitting his and his animal's sides for nothing. Bill is too acute for him; he won't nab him - not he." Upon further inquiry, the aforesaid Bill, I learnt, was nabbed, and made the scapegrace for the other delinquents. This is a brief but a true and faithful account of this license hunt. And now, gentlemen, I ask is this a dignified, certain, or easy method for a government to adopt to facquire its revenue? There can be only one answer or opinion. A question naturally will arise, which will be this—What remedy do you propose? You know (any inquirer would urge) that the agricultural interests must be protected. Granted. You are aware that a revenue must be obtained to enable the Government to make better roads, and ensure more safe and expeditious means of communication. Most clearly certain.

Well, then, what are they to do? The answers I would make would be to this effect. If the Government is so deeply anxious to throw the diggings open to every labourer, and at the same to diminish the temptation of drawing the working class from necessary interests, let them make it incumbent upon individual diggers to pay a registration fee of 10s., per man, and enact a heavy penalty for omission of such registration. Let the Government also, upon the payment of gold into the mint or upon export, claim from the bullion dealer a per-centage. Upon the per-centage duty I will here make these brief remarks. The Colonial Secretary furnished to the Legislative Council statistics with respect to Brazilian gold mining regulations, which were totally incorrect. In Brazil, the government levies 5 per cent of the produce at the mines, and further takes 2 per cent. export duty. This plan could be adopted in Australia with perfect safety, as confiscation of all gold which has not paid the regular duty would even pay the Government better than the tax itself; at least so has it been found to do in Brazil. The tax thus imposed upon capital, and not upon the producer, must be a less obnoxious method. I must bear testimony to the zeal, temper, and unremitting attention of the Turon Commissioners, who must now feel great reluctance in exacting the license fee from disappointed diggers. In former times, when a man could get his five ounces per diem, it can readily be imagined that he was anxious to secure his claim and take out the 30s. license; but now it is notorious, on account of small produces, that despite the utmost vigilance (which is exercised) there are numerous migratory diggers who pay nothing, and many fixed speculators who defraud the Government. The blame and odium of this rests with the Government, which has placed the Commissioners in a most unenviable position, requiring at his hands the levying of a tax which he has, upon combined refusal, no power to enforce. As I enter more fully upon this subject, I shall suggest the best means at command for developing the golden treasures of the Turon. In my present letter, my only object is to point out the falsity of present gold regulations, and to offer a plan for consideration (viz., a per-centage and export duty), which must be far more satisfactory, efficacious, and remunerative.

In the course of a few days, I shall have it in my power to prove that individual operations must fail to fill the government exchequer, and that capital and science, if encouraged, must accomplish this purpose.

In my further letters, I shall ask for that protection from Government, both for these purposes, the security of property, and transmission of gold, all of which I am sure the Legislature will see the advantage and necessity of granting.

I am, Gentlemen, yours, &c.,

PUBLICOLA.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—On Tuesday last, in his place in Council, the honorable the Colonial Secretary, in reply to an enquiry from Mr. Holroyd, "whether the government intended to carry out the recommendations of the board appointed to consider the question of clerks' salaries, or whether it was their intention to make any further additions to those salaries," stated, that on Friday next (yesterday), he would be in a position to say what determination the Executive had arrived at on the subject.

On the question being repeated by Mr. Holroyd yesterday, the Colonial Secretary was not, however, prepared to state the intentions of the government, further than that the recommendations of the board would be carried out.

It is now nearly three weeks since the subject was brought under the notice of the executive by a memorial to his Excellency the Governor-General, adopted at a numerously attended meeting of, and numerously signed by, the subordinate officers of government, and with the consent, and in some places the recommendation of, the heads of their respective departments; and yet the Colonial Secretary has given notice that on Friday next he will move that the House be adjourned until the 30th proximo; and so far as can be judged from his reply to Mr. Holroyd, he has no intention, during the ensuing week, of bringing before the House any measure for the benefit of the memorialists.

That the distress of the subordinate Government Officers, caused by the great increase in the price of every necessary, calls for immediate relief, is tacitly admitted by the Board above referred to in its recommendation that the increase it proposed should be so far retrospective as that the increase granted under it should commence from the 1st of July last, and by the Executive Government in its adoption of that recommendation; and the Government cannot be ignorant that, while by that measure some of the more fortunate clerks have received increases amounting to almost half their former salaries, the inferiors to which they had in some instances been very recently promoted,—and while all these clerks have received an advance amounting to about two-fifths of their former salaries, the majority of Government subordinates have received either no advance whatever, or one so small as to be totally inadequate to meet the increased difficulties which they have to encounter.

The Executive should bear in mind that "hope deferred maketh the heart sick," and that it is impossible, while a question in which every one so materially interested remains in its present state of uncertainty, that the labours of subordinates can be carried on with that cheerfulness and energy which are so necessary to the well-being of the public service; also, that while there is little danger of these officers, by a general resignation like that of a portion of the police, forcing the grant of a liberal advance in their salaries, still, where a just liberality, commensurate with the high and increasing prices and the flourishing revenue of the colony, is not shown, the inevitable result will be that slowly, but surely, the best and most efficient officers of Government will apply their labour and talents to other avocations, which may, from time to time, present themselves, and hold out hopes of higher remuneration.

And yet, were it certain that by parsimonious delays not one useful servant would be lost to the public, higher motives should surely induce the Government to follow a more liberal policy. Justice should pervade all the actions of a wise government, and where, by an unusual and unexpected course of events, the salaries of Government officers are reduced to two-thirds, or even one-half of their former value, while by the same events the revenues of that Government is increased in a somewhat relative proportion, does not justice demand that the losses of the class shall be made good from the increased resources of the public?

Should it be admitted, then, that in justice some increase should be allowed, every day that it is withheld an act of injustice is committed, and with the means, the power, and possibly the intention, to relieve the distress of the memorialists, the Government should not require to be reminded of the proverb, "Bis dat qui cito dat."

It cannot require weeks to determine whether the claims of the subordinates are deserving of consideration, and their difficulties of relief; and no abstruse arithmetical calculation seems necessary to arrive at a conclusion how far these necessities may be relieved from the estimated surplus revenue, without endangering the present wholesome state of the public finances: and I will conclude these remarks by expressing a hope that the Council may not be adjourned without some reply being vouchsafed to the memorial, or some relief given to the necessities which it exhibits.

ONE INTERESTED.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—I observe in your paper of today a statement that the Rev. Dr. Carey was the first missionary to India. Such statement is incorrect. Dr. Carey was no doubt the first missionary sent to India by one of the modern missionary societies, namely, "the Baptist Missionary Society," but Protestant missionaries had laboured in India years prior to the arrival of Dr. Carey. The missionaries I allude to were sent out by the Church of England Society, called "The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts," and among such missionaries the name of Schwartz (better known as "the Venerable Schwartz") occupies a prominent position.

I have no wish whatever to detract from the fame of so great and good a man as I believe Dr. Carey to have been, but only desire to correct a very common belief among members of the Baptist communion that the Baptist Missionary Society was the first Protestant missionary society, and that Dr. Carey was the first Protestant missionary to India.

I am, gentlemen, yours, &c.,

R. J.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—I have rather anxiously been looking, for sometime past, for the expression of your editorial opinions, or those of some of your numerous correspondents, on the long talked of subject of the formation of Yeomanry or Volunteer Corps, to supply, in some measure, the generally admitted want of anything like a satisfactory state of security, in which the colony, and its metropolis more especially, are placed, against either outward attacks or internal commotions.

It has been at length made known to the public that the Government has initiated a Bill in the Legislative Council for this purpose, which, it appears to me, was rather precipitately brought forward and read a first time on Wednesday last, and is to be rather unnecessarily pressed to a second reading on Wednesday next.

This seems to have taken place without any further observation, as far as can be gathered from your short report of the Council's proceedings, than the quaint introductory speech of the Colonial Secretary on bringing the subject forward, and the naked seconding of his motion by the Attorney-General. With respect to the former, cursory as it was, little can be said against it except that it appears to me to be not in consonance with the general principles that have ruled in the formation of such institutions in the mother country. It must be borne in mind that the far greater proportion of the individuals forming corps of these descriptions were tradesmen, yeomen, and mechanics, of all grades and descriptions, residents of the parish or hundred where the corps was raised, and most of them with families; and consequently, should it at any time become necessary to call such men out into actual service, it would only become a matter of common justice to them that they should be afforded not only the small amount of pay to which the military of the country were entitled, but that they also be entitled on the return of peace or tranquillity to be forwarded back to their homes or neighbourhoods—that in the event of their being disabled they should be entitled to military pensions, or allowances, or to their admission into the Chelsea or some other Asylum, and that in the event of their losing their lives their families should be entitled to the customary military allowances. To suppose therefore that the providing for the pay of such persons during periods of actual service is a new feature in the system is quite erroneous.

The introduction of such institutions into this colony I admit must be accompanied with very many different regulations to what prevailed in the mother country during the height of the volunteer system forty or fifty years ago; but still the same general principles, I am persuaded, must be followed as far as circumstances can be made to bear upon similar institutions in this country.

The yeomanry and volunteer system in England was admitted by its most zealous adherents to be very defective in many particulars, but several of which might in many instances have been very easily remedied. The inducements for individuals to enrol themselves for service in these corps were cogent enough, namely, the protection it afforded them from service in case of being drawn for the militia, and the exemption from all parish offices and duties; but it wanted something more to instil into them any thing like an esprit du corps, or zeal for the service, or sense of military bearing or duty; but there were some few corps who from peculiar circumstances did possess some advantages in this respect.

I was in hopes of ascertaining how far such institutions in this country could be placed on something like an equal footing with those of the mother country, and in the absence of my being able to obtain any information through the public press as to what was proposed by the Government, I used my influence to obtain a copy of the proposed Act. I must say it appears to me to be totally wanting in all the necessary provisions that ought to have been made for the formation and discipline of any corps or body intended to act under the command of men of their own grade and standing as officers over them. No number of days of drill, exercise, parade, or inspection are prescribed; and though these might be fixed by other means than by the Act itself, there are no fines or penalties provided for the non-observance of them, or the mode of recovery of any such fines or penalties pointed out, which would require some legislative enactment to authorise the enforcement of. The arms and accoutrements it would appear are to be entrusted to the tender mercies and keeping of each individual member of the corps respectively.—Now can it be supposed that after a very short time has elapsed under such a system, there will be one-half of the arms found to be in a fit state for service, and more especially on the occurrence of any sudden emergency? Can it be supposed that any corps can be kept together without any attendant incidental or occasional expenditure?—and how is that to be provided for but by the raising a regimental fund by the individual subscription of the members. The regular payment of such subscriptions, therefore, as well as of all fines, penalties, and forfeitures, ought to be provided for by the act, and ought to be capable of being enforced in a summary way.

There are many other matters that the most cursory glance at any of the volunteer acts of England would readily suggest as highly necessary to be introduced into the act for this colony. I am not going to enlarge further on this subject, on the present occasion at any rate. I will merely point out one curious inconsistency that appears in the bill as at present drawn, that whilst all the essential provisions of the English act are omitted, the totally nugatory provision of subjecting such corps as might have been enrolled under former acts, and were still continued on such former enrollments, to all the provisions of the act about to be passed.

But I do not wish to be hypercritical with the bill as at present printed. I trust it will undergo very many alterations and much needful improvement before it passes, and more particularly that the sole object of the act, as set forth in the first enactment "for the protection of property and preservation of the peace"—which gives it merely a municipal police character—will also meet with some amendment.

I remain, gentlemen, yours, &c.,

AN OLD VOLUNTEER OFFICER.

AMERICAN BANK NOTES.—Thompson's "Bank Note and Commercial Reporter," published at New York, is an invaluable work in a country which contains nearly 1200 banks of issue. Against about 400 of these is written "fraud," "worthless," "never went into operation," "broke," "closing," "closed." Against the remainder is placed the discount on their good notes, varying, except in New York, where they are mostly at par, from ¼ per cent. in the north, to ½, ¾, 1½, 5, 20, 50, 75 in the south and west, till we get to states like Mississippi, Missouri, Florida, Arkansas, which Mr. Thompson dismisses with the brief notice: "All the banks in this state," or all but one, "are broken, and their notes are of nominal and doubtful value." Under the head of each good bank comes the list and the description of the counterfeit notes on them. Few are without some: from five to fifteen seems the ordinary number of these parasites. Mr. Thompson enumerates 2800 different counterfeit notes. The first feature in a note which invites the vigilance and scrutiny of the "good judge of money," is the vignette. A rustic, pastoral, agricultural, commercial, or mythological composition adorns and characterizes every note. The fine arts embellish, and are a test, if they do not enhance the value of a prosaic "promise to pay." Mr. Thompson's list reads like a descriptive catalogue of a collection of remarkable engravings or medals. The emblems which enter into these designs are, for the most part, few and simple. Ships, steamers, rail-cars, ploughs, safes, saw mills, forges, wheat sheaves, cattle, Indians, dogs, supply the material allusions; females, eagles, Mercuries, Cupids, Neptunes, and portraits of distinguished men, the allegorical ones. As, for instance, a "scroll containing rail cars, three females, two Indians, and a deer, head of Franklin on the left, and liberty on the right." The meeting of civilization and the wilderness is symbolized by "an Indian viewing a train of cars" (a favourite emblem train of cars); and lady and gentleman on the right, and sheaf of grain on the left: or more simply in another vignette of "six Indians and four whites." The number of figures seems sometimes to allude to the dollars of the note. Thus in the genuine notes of the bank of Rondont, "genuine twos have two females in a frame on the right, and a blacksmith on the left;" "genuine fives have five human figures on the left;" while, with a pardonable compliment, Washington alone may be supposed to stand for three on the "genuine threes." Something more ideal seems to be presented by "a lady in a kneeling posture—a man ploughing on the right end, Vulcan on the left"—by "a large spread eagle alighted on a rock between two ships"—by "a locomotive—shrub to the right, a female on the left, eagle's nest and young at the bottom"—by "two females, safe, and eagle, &c., figure five in a round die on each side, two females on the right end, and a female sitting on the left"—"two females and an animal on a chest"—by "a female holding a goblet to an eagle, with one arm over the eagle's neck; or by the directly mythological subjects of "Vulcan and a female, and an old man with writing materials," "Neptune and lady," and also "Neptune and a female, in a car drawn by sea horses," "Mercury on a rock." In one, said "to be altered from some Michigan affair," we have "Mercury giving a bag of coin to a female who holds a key, and a winged lion or griffin on the chest beside her, two females on the right, a female with scales on the left." The grave irony is felicitous, both of those who invented this badge of a "broken Michigan bank," the female holding a key and receiving a bag of money from the hands of Mercury, a griffin seated on a chest by her side,"—and of those who, when this bank was broken, turned its notes to fresh account as a counterfeit of a solvent Massachusetts or Pensylvania one. But the designs are not always so recondite. We have homely scenes, quite conceivable combinations, such as "a blacksmith and two females," or "an Indian, and four persons in a boat," or a blacksmith shoeing a horse and a boy holding him," "a whale scene," "railroad and mountain scene," "reapers and dog, girl with a basket on her arm and bundle on her head," "a dog, dead deer, &c.," "Indian family on a cliff, with water scene beneath," "a steersman," "race horses and riders," "a sailor seated on a bale of goods with a flag in his hand," "an oval filled with dairy maids." There is apparently a distinction between "females" and ladies"—between the antique ideal and modern reality. Thus, for instance, "a lady's" head on the right, a female on the left," "a female, sheaf of wheat, axe, screw, &c., Washington on one end, and a lady on the other." In the other case, allegory is exchanged for strict fact. In the "steam boat, ship, and distant city" on a Burlington counterfeit note the forger was for once too accurate, he makes "Burlington look like Burlington." History supplies some illustrations—to us, on this side of the ocean, sometimes dark and mythical—"Perry's Victory" forms the subject of a distinguishing vignette for one bank, and his portrait for another, while we in England are ignorant of the victory—perhaps over ourselves—thus commemorated, and its hero. Kentucky banknotes are adorned with the front or side face of the better known Henry Clay; all through the States, Lafayette balances, Cupids, and justice, or sometimes a cow and a calf. Washington and Franklin, well portrayed, distinguish the genuine notes of Rochester from the counterfeit, in which "they look like Tom Benton in a thunder storm." The New Haven bank is issuing new bills distinguished from the old ones by having a representation of the "First Sabbath in Quinnipac, 1638." There are notes of the Stamford bank bearing as their token a vignette of "Putnam riding down hill—female on the right." Our historical knowledge is again at fault. When Putman rode down hill, and why, we have forgotten. But however artistically curious be this subject, or tempting to historical research, our guide warns all practical men who value their money to beware of Putnam riding down hill. He rides on no honest errands; it is to swindle all whom he can take in of three dollars.

THE CONTEST FOR THE PRIMA DONNA.—On the 17th May, this case was again brought into court, and the Vice-Chancellor delivered an elaborate judgment in favour of Mr. Lumley. As this judgment is very long, and somewhat intricate in statement, the following condensed narrative of the case will assist the reader to a clearer view of the details. In the autumn of last year, Dr. Bacher, a friend of the family, was occupied in procuring an engagement for Madlle. Wagner in London and Paris. He naturally came in contact with Mr. Lumley, and received from that gentleman a formal paper containing his usual stipulations upon engaging the services of a performer. This paper contained a prohibitory clause which forbade the appearance of Madlle. Wagner at any private concert, &c., while her engagement with Mr. Lumley should subsist. When the document was shown to the Wagners, they objected to this clause, and drew up another paper similar—we believe—to it in other respects, save that this prohibitory clause was omitted. To this paper the Wagners affixed their signatures, and it was conveyed by Dr. Bacher to Mr. Lumley. In such a shape the manager would have nothing to do with it, and insisted upon the restoration of the veto. To this Dr. Bacher assented—added the clause—and signed it as agent to the Wagners. So far as it turns upon this point the question throughout is a simple one of agency. Dr. Bacher, when he had added the clause, forwarded the paper to Madlle. Wagner, and it was by her acknowledged in a letter bearing date one day of November last. Then we find all parties engaged in a correspondence on the subject—Mr. Lumley—Mr. Albert Wagner, the father—Madlle. Joanna Dr. Bacher, and all of them assuming that there was a contract subsisting between the manager and the singer. "Now," as the Vice-Chancellor shrewdly enough remarked, "there had been no contract signed without this clause, and therefore this is the contract concerning which the parties were in correspondence." What the Wagners say is, that when the paper was sent back to them, they objected to the clause, and only received the document upon Dr. Bacher's assurance that when they arrived in London the little matter should be set right. Such, however, is the only reason assigned by the Wagners against the validity of the contract—namely, a vague hope on their own part that, when they arrived in London, Mr. Lumley would be induced to give up the advantages which he had negotiated with so much earnestness. Another point was raised in favour of the Wagners. It was on their side alleged that money was not paid by Mr. Lumley on a particular day when it should have been paid. It is replied, in the first place, that Dr. Bacher had money of Mr. Lumley's in his hands, and that, even had it been otherwise, all deficiencies in this respect were excused by the conduct of the Wagners on and after the 5th of March, and by a subsequent tender of the money on the 15th of April. It was on the 5th of March at the Wagners, who had so bound themselves to Mr. Lumley, were found at Hamburgh quietly entering into a fresh contract with Mr. Gye, from which they hoped to derive larger pecuniary advantages. More than this; on the 9th of March, Dr. Bacher wrote to Madlle. Wagner, asking where he should pay the money he had ready for her, and received from her father the following reply:—"If you send the bill to Berlin, be good enough to address it either at this time to Berlin, or from (des) the 2nd of April to Hamburgh, to Engel and to Ferdinand Hirst, where we shall remain some time longer with our daughter." But, however this may be, it is quite clear that on Mr. Lumley's part there was no disinclination or inability to pay the money when called. The paltry subterfuge was furbished up at the last moment to serve the turn of those who would not keep and could scarcely evade the terms of an agreement into which they had entered of their own free will. The simple truth of this long trial is, that Madlle. Joanna Wagner and her excellent parent thought that the second bargain was better than the first, and therefore endeavoured to repudiat their own act. It is a shabby business, and the sooner for Madlle. Wagner's sake it is forgotten the better. At the same time, it is clear enough that the fault lies, not with the young girl, but with the sordid circle around her, who were endeavouring to huckster her talents about the most profitable market without regard to any considerations but those of £. s. d. At the conclusion of the judgment, Mr. Bacon asked for the costs of the motion. His Honour said, the general rule of the court was that such costs should be costs in the cause. The defendants immediately intimated their intention of appealing against the decision, and the 22nd was set aside for the hearing. The appeal came on for hearing before the Lord Chancellor on the day appointed, and was resumed on the 26th, when his lordship, in a careful judgment, decided against Madlle. Wagner, casting her at the same time in the costs of the suit.—Home News, June 2.

HORBURY TERRACE,
For sale by Tender, in Lots of one House or more.

THIS splendid property consists of those EIGHT CAPITAL HOUSES situate in the most desirable part of Sydney, and so well known by the above description.

All the above houses are four stories high (including the cellar kitchens, which open out upon a level with the yards), and seven of them have access by a lane from Hunter-street, the eighth having a private entrance to the rear from Macquarie-street.

They are all in excellent order, and, with one exception, have the city water laid on.

They have always been occupied by highly respectable tenants; and their rental has yielded as high a return as £156 per annum for each house, since which time considerable improvements and additions have been made. Without doubt these rates will be again attainable (if not considerably increased) upon the expiration of the present tenancies, now having only a short time to run.

The position occupied by Horbury Terrace is unrivalled. It is within two or three minutes' walk of the wharves, the banks, and the busiest parts of George and Pitt streets, and almost directly opposite the entrance to the Domain—thus combining all the advantages of the country, with a residence in the heart of the city. It is in the immediate neighbourhood of the Legislative Council, the Government offices, the Supreme Court, and the Library.

The baths are only just across the Domain, whilst Hyde Park and our splendid Botanical Gardens, from their easy distance, may almost be said to be attached to the property. The magnificent scenery and splendid views yield perhaps to none in the world, either in extent or beauty; the front windows of the Terrace commanding our glorious harbour with its countless bays, the Heads, the Light House, Government House, the Gardens, North Shore and the Domain. The western windows take in, in one panoramic view, all the busy parts of our metropolis from George-street to Darling Harbour, and—extending even still beyond—embrace Pyrmont, and Balmain, and the charming scenery of the Parramatta River. It is therefore no exaggeration to say, that the position occupied by Horbury Terrace is unrivalled.

The following are the names of the present tenants:—Messrs. Morgan, Want, Campbell, Brett, Johnson, Mrs. Bodenham, Miss White, and Mr. Nathan; and parties tendering for one or more of the houses will please state the name, or names, of the tenants occupying the house or houses tendered for; but this is not necessary where the whole are tendered for in one lot; and, to prevent mistake, it is to be understood that each house will have the exact quantity of land ceded to it upon which it stands, together with the yards as now fenced in and occupied by each tenant, as also the right of way to the rear as at present enjoyed.

But if the whole of the houses are sold in one lot, the back lane will also be given in to the purchaser.

A deposit of 25 per cent. will be required to be paid on the acceptance of each Tender; and those persons who may wish a portion of the purchase money to remain on mortgage are requested to state what amount, what number of years, and at what rate of interest they would require it.

All Tenders are to be sent in under cover, sealed, and addressed "Tender for Horbury Terrace," to Messrs. Mort, Ebsworth, and King, care of T. S. Mort, Esq., at his office, Pitt-street, on or before Friday, the 15th October next, at noon: on which day the Tenders will be opened in their presence, when the most favourable Tender or Tenders will be accepted, provided they are not below the minimum limit sent under seal by the proprietor, to be opened by the above-named gentlemen at the same time.

A. H. M'Culloch, Esq., Solicitor, Elizabeth-street, will satisfy intending purchasers as to the title being unquestionably good and beyond the shadow of doubt. The quit rent is redeemed.
